

THE Wildcat
Golden 1952

As I sat gazing up into the deep blue sky, a mist-like veil covered everything and the Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred Fifty-Two could be seen taking its place with the missions of Americans who desire to achieve.

Boarding an American Airlines plane, destination Buffalo, New York, I noted that Lawrence Sharp was one of the stockholders of the company. There were five of the 'Fifty-Two graduates working there - Dorothy Spears, LaVerne Harris, Catherine Smith, and Sarah Martin. Sarah was dietician. John Denmon was there for a rest after being attacked by some of his shop students. He teaches industrial arts at a high school in Buffalo. Head surgeon was Robert Mairley.

Imagine my surprise when we stopped at the Diamond Horse-shoe for dinner and discovered Norvell Wallace was the proprietor! In an annex, I found the offices of Napoleon Smith, dentist; and Johnnie Jones, doctor. Their secretaries, Elise Hull and Maggie Reid seemed quite efficient. The building was one of Samuel Randle's famous architectural masterpieces - in fact, it's been called the most magnificent piece of architecture of the twentieth century. Herbert Tate, a psychiatrist, Essie Miller, his assistant, and John Langston, a pro football star were in conference when I stopped by to see Herbert. I gathered that Langston was "crazy confused" because he didn't get the coaching job at Yale. The job was given to Hubert Banks instead.

In these times of turmoil,
unrest and uncertainty,
people without faith perish.

We, the pupils of Melrose appreciate the yeoman service the many churches of our community are rendering in increasing and sustaining within us the faith of our fathers.

The Senior Class of 1952 therefore is proud to dedicate this yearbook to these sentinels of faith.

As I sat gazing up into the deep blue sky, a mist-like veil covered everything and the Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred Fifty-Two could be seen taking its place with the missions of Americans who desire to achieve.

Boarding an American Airlines plane, destination Buffalo, New York, I noted that Lawrence Sharp was one of the stockholders of the company. On my arrival across the street I saw the Hughes House of Beauty, with Doris Hughes arranging cosmetics in her window. Peeping in I saw Ernestine Walker as one of her operators, and two of her secretaries taking notes, Ella Ervin and Mae Boga.

A super deluxe Futurmobile glided through the streets of Buffalo and found myself standing before Petty's Hospital. There were five of the 'Fifty-Two graduates working there - Dorothy Spears, LaVerne Harris, Catherine Smith, and Sarah Martin. Sarah was dietician. John Denmon was there for a rest after being attacked by some of his shop students. He teaches industrial arts at a high school in Buffalo. Head surgeon was Robert Mairley.

Imagine my surprise when we stopped at the Diamond Horseshoe for dinner and discovered Norvell Wallace was the proprietor! In an annex, I found the offices of Napoleon Smith, dentist; and Johnnie Jones, doctor. Their secretaries, Elise Hull and Maggie Reid seemed quite efficient. The building was one of Samuel Randle's famous architectural masterpieces - in fact, it's been called the most magnificent piece of architecture of the twentieth century. Herbert Tate, a psychiatrist, Essie Miller, his assistant, and John Langston, a pro football star were in conference when I stopped by to see Herbert. I gathered that Langston was "crazy confused" because he didn't get the coaching job at Yale. The job was given to Hubert Banks instead.

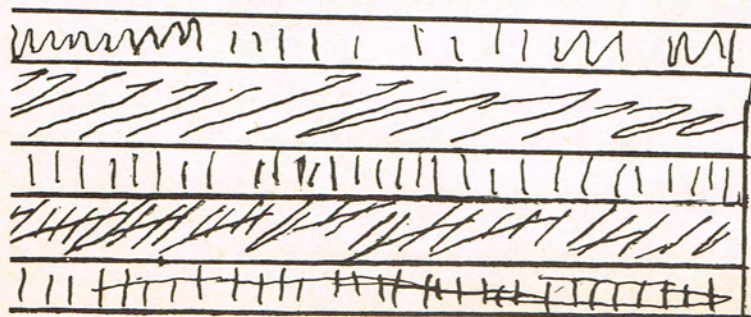

In that brief conversation I learned that Kermia Beasley and Oscar Wilson are on the first team of the All-American players. Ivory Walker and Richard Parker are playing in the National League, with the Dodgers. Ivory Walker is pitcher and Parker is holding down third base. John Cash is with the New York Giants as a catcher.

Leaving Buffalo, New York, my next stop is Boston, Mass. A well known club there, the "Variety Club" has as some of its members Arthur Boga, head clerk in Boston's largest postoffice; Leola Cooper, social worker, Floyd Bragg, business man; and Mary Johnson, his private secretary; and one member of whom we are especially proud, James Partee who will enter the Olympics this year to compete for a world prize in swimming.

Ruby Parker owns a very fashionable dress shop on Boston's exclusive Snob Hill. Her assistant is Wilma Miller and keeping the accounts is Annie Butler. LaVerne Williams, a geometric designer, sketches several of the fashions sold in this shop.

In Doris Glover's Secretarial School, several of her classmates are in her classes. Lois Watkins, Nellie Nolan, Pearlina Wooten, Martha King are all secretaries and their purpose for going here is that after two months they will be qualified to either take a position as secretary to Oscar Davis, a chemistry professor at Howard, or secretary to Caleb Davis, a defense attorney who's kept very busy due to the fact that Eldridge Mitchell, the famous narcotics agent, is cracking down on the sale of narcotics to teen agers.

Victor Williams is the town's favorite disc jockey. He is heard three times a day, six days a week. I heard one of his programs and he was announcing a play coming for the grand opening of the Ripensa Theater with Carrie Sharpe in the leading role. Larry Timberlake owns the theater which is one of a

CLASS HISTORY

In the year of 1940, we the present Senior Class began at Melrose Junior High School as first graders, under the leadership of Mrs. Gertrude Johnson, Miss Maggie Donelson, and the late Miss Annie Stout. Under their excellent leadership we received the foundation from which we have molded our high school career.

During our stay in the Primary Department we were able to master the fundamentals of the Three R's - Readin', 'Ritin, and 'Rithmetic.

After leaving the Primary Department, with eagerness to learn, we entered the Intermediate Department. In the fourth grade, we experienced our first participation in the May Day Festival.

Feeling that we had made many accomplishments, we were now looking forward to the completion of our elementary education, being ever mindful that we had just begun to climb the ladder of success in education.

We entered High School with much enthusiasm, being greeted by upper classmen as "green freshmen". Disliking this name, we strove very hard toward the removal of this embarrassing greeting.

As Freshmen we extended an inviting hand to new students who came to Melrose to experience their freshman year in high school with us. Some of the new students were Lonnie Saulsberry, Gloria Burnett, Floyd Bragg, Johnnie Jones, Vivian Bullard, Lois Watkins, Claudia Thomas, and Ernestine Walker.

We found subject matter quite different from that we had studied before entering high school. Time passed and again it was time for promotion; we were now considered Sophomores. Our class membership still had not been completed for many new students enrolled. Two of them were Dorothy Spears, and Ernestine Woods.

During our Junior year, several important new organizations were formed, notably the establishment of the Melrose Chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools. Members from our class were: Jacqueline Randolph, Oscar Davis, Lawrence Sharp, Napoleon Smith, Leola Cooper, and Jean Smith.

There were two new subjects added to the curriculum: physical education and Spanish.

In the spring we greeted the Junior-Senior Prom with much enthusiasm.

Reaching the Senior year, we looked back over our accomplishments proudly. Added to the Honor Society this year were Robert Dotson and Willie Fletcher.

The Senior Class officers are: president, Oscar Davis; vice-president, Napoleon Smith; secretary, Sarah Ann Martin; assistant secretary, Laverne Harris; treasurer, Larry Timberlake; chaplain, Mae Boga; sergeant-at-arms, Ivory Walker.

We, the Seniors, are soon to travel those paths, toilsome though they may be, that lead to the fields of achievements and glory. Wherever our lots may be cast or our success be won, fond remembrances will to our hearts always cling. The inspiration to high purpose and noble endeavor imparted to us by dear old Melrose will ever go with us.

chain he owns. Ernestine Taylor, concert artist, was featured at the Ripensa in Paris last month.

Cruising around town in one of the cabs owned by Walter Jones, I noticed a modern, high school building. I was told that Samuel Martin, architect, designed the building. Jacqueline Randolph is principal with Helen Martin as her assistant. Lonnie Brittenum is teaching math there and Gearldine Sanders is teaching the girls' physical education.

My next stop was at the Golden Terrace, a favorite Boston night spot owned by Lawrence Duty. The entertainment is furnished by Carl Dalton's orchestra, featuring Florence Bryant, interpretive dancer. I noticed Doris Hudson, a movie actress now playing in a Hollywood hit, seated at one of the tables. Chatting with her I found that she could currently be seen in the picture "Families are Fun". Her producer is Jeff Grayer and the script was written by Carl Newton. Not far from her table was Jean Smith, a tutor for Marva Crawford's children. Marva is the new Katherine Dunham, with dancing classes all over the country. She informed me that Aleta Gatewood and Lonnie Saulsberry are her assistants. They have charge of all her classes.

Marie Carter is a stewardess on the ocean liner, Queen Mary. Ernestine Woods told me when she was making a tour of Europe last summer that she saw Marie. Ernestine is a private secretary to Richard Tuggle, an internationally known chemist. Nadder Langston and Vivian Bullard are in partnership in one of the world's largest department stores located in Baltimore. Rebecca Guy and Claudia Thomas are salesladies there, and Gloria Burnett is buyer for the entire store.

My last stop is Newark, New Jersey. Robert Dotson, a nationally known chemist, has discovered two new elements.

Now the mist-like veil is slowly fading away and thus we have seen the Melrose class of '52 taking its place in the world.

CLASS WILL

We, the seventh Senior Class, in perfect mental and physical condition, do hereby leave these cherished possessions to those who follow in our footsteps.

To our dear school, Melrose, we leave you the faith, will power, and ingenuity to strive to reach the top and the strength to remain there. To our beloved principal, Mr. F. M. Campbell and the faculty, the authority to make the best out of us.

To the Juniors who are following after us, these priceless possessions we leave you; but if you feel that you cannot use them, we beg of you to pass them on to someone who is worthy of them.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This most vital organization of the school campus has as its purpose the promoting of better relationships between teachers and students, and the stimulating of interest in the general welfare of the school, the beautifying of the school ground, and the preparing of young people for citizenship. One of the most useful functions of the group is the relieving of teachers of certain routine duties about the school. Officers elected by vote of the student body are: president, Caleb Davis; vice-president, George Cox; secretary, Sarah Ann Martin; assistant secretary, Maggie Reid; corresponding secretary, Doris Hughes; treasurer, Willie Diltz; chaplain, Hildred Seats. Advisers are Mrs. Sharp, Mr. Fletcher, and Mr. Goodlow.

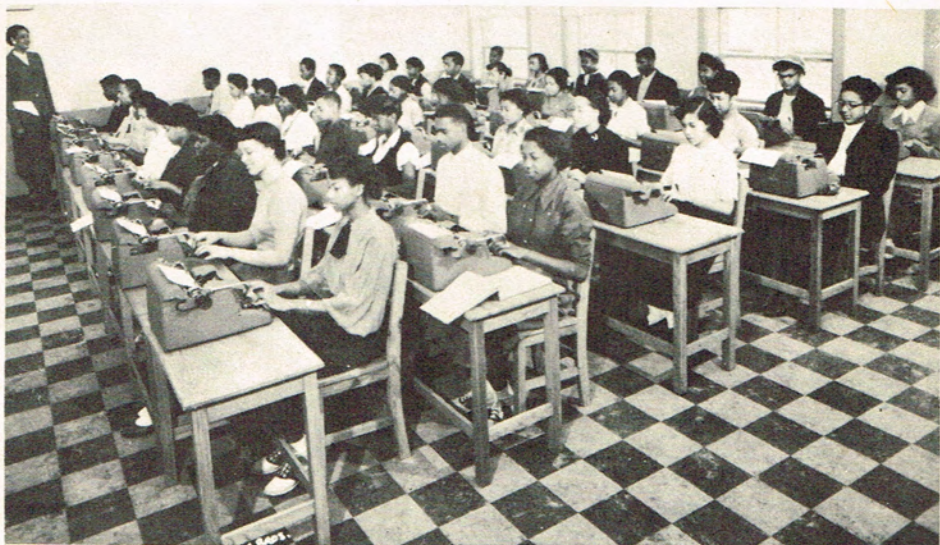

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The Melrose Chapter of the National Honor Society was organized on our campus to give recognition to those students who excell in scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Students are elected to membership by the faculty, and the group is advised by a faculty council of five members. Officers for this year are: president, Willie Fletcher; vice-president, Robert Baldwin; secretary, Dorothy Tolliver; corresponding secretary, Lila Belle Smith; treasurer, Robert Dotson. Other members are Oscar Davis, Jacqueline Randolph, George Cox, Irma Tate. The faculty council is headed by Mrs. M. V. Reid as chairman, with four other members, Mrs. Gladys V. Sharp, Mrs. M. E. Collier, Mr. D. D. Goodlow, and Mrs. Frances Richardson.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

COMMERCE

HI - Y

This organization contributes regularly to the Hi-Y post, it participates in the inter-school softball league and the Hi-Y tournament. Its purpose is to create, maintain, and extend, throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character. Here are the officers for the present school year: president, Napoleon Smith; vice-president, Oscar Davis; secretary, Lawrence Sharp; assistant secretary, Charles Langston; treasurer, Larry Timberlake; chaplain, Wilbur West. Mr. Alfred Becton is adviser of the Hi-Y.

GRA - Y

The "littlest" boys of the YMCA have made themselves felt on the campus by their devotion to all duties and activities. Officers of the Gra-Y are: president, Lawrence Pernell; vice-president, Marvin Smith; secretary, Charles Cox; assistant secretary, Rufus Bowling; treasurer, Odie Keel. The adviser is Mr. H. Robinson.

THE BROWNIE SCOUTS

We learn many things which will be useful in everyday life such as arts and crafts, dramatics, songs, games, health and safety, helpfulness and service, homemaking, music, dancing, nature, our own and other lands, the outdoors, and the reading of good books. Our doors are open for any girls between the ages of eight and ten to come and join us. Officers of the Brownies are: president, Alberta Bailey; secretary, Delores Hill; chaplain, Ann Suttles. Advisers are Miss Ruthie Gray, leader; and Miss Inez Somerville, assistant leader.

SENIOR Y-TEENS

This is the girls' organization of the YWCA. Our purpose is "to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which it is committed by our faith as Christians". Officers of the Senior Y-Teens are Pearline Wright, president; Bobbie Holman, vice-president; Mary Truitt, secretary; Johnnie Washington, assistant secretary; Fretia Scott, treasurer. Mrs. Mary Collier and Mrs. Dorris Bodden are the advisers.

THE CHARMETTES

The lovely young ladies pictured above are members of the Charmettes. All our efforts go toward the development of charm and personality, as well as the developing of intellect. During the year we have been honored to have some of the most outstanding ladies of the city to speak to us. The gentlemen you see on the picture are our Knights, chosen because of their knightly bearing and manner. Our officers are: president, Carrie Sharpe; vice-president, Jean Smith; secretary, Velma Lois Watkins; assistant secretary, Jacqueline Randolph; treasurer, Doris Hughes. Mrs. Mildred McCleave is our adviser, and assisting her are Mrs. Cawthon, Mrs. Bowden and Miss Boswell.

THE ARABESQUE CLUB

We are amateur dancers who get pleasure from dancing as well as gaining good posture and poise from it. We are under the supervision of Miss Georgia Rose Sylvers. Our specialty is the "Egyptian Dance".

SAFETY COUNCIL

THE JUNIOR HIGH TEENAGERS CLUB

The picture you see above is that of the 8-5 and 7-6 classes who have bended themselves into a club. The purpose of the club is to make us more cooperative. Officers are: president, Aline LaGrone; secretary, Beatrice Temple; reporter, Bettye Jo Harris; Mrs. Marie Rawlings, adviser.

SENIOR SERVICE SCOUTS

The members of the scouts appreciate belonging to a national organization with more than a million members whose aim is to become active, intelligent citizens. Here are our officers for the year: Monice Williams, president, vice-president, Doristine Thompson; secretary, Lois Hicks; assistant secretary, Juanita Shields; treasurer, Margie Jones; chaplain, Shirley Bolden. Our adviser is Mrs. Minnie V. Reid, and on her committee are Mrs. McKinney, Mrs. Bolden, Mrs. Randolph, Mrs. Richardson, Miss Thomas, and Miss Cummings.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

JUNIOR Y-TEENS

The Junior Y-Teen Club is a very dynamic organization. It has more members than any other group on the campus. Its purpose is to train girls of the junior high level to be better citizens. The officers are: president, Freda Manry; vice-president, Mary Harris; secretary, Ernestine Rucker; assistant secretary, Dorothy Cogsvill; treasurer, Sylvia Johnson. The advisers are Miss Clanton, Miss Campbell and Miss Thomas.

This is the girls' organization of the YWCA. Our purpose is "to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which it is committed by our faith as Christians". Officers of the Senior Y-Teens are Pearline Wright, president; Bobbie Holman, vice-president; Mary Truitt, secretary; Johnnie Washington, assistant secretary; Fretia Scott, treasurer. Mrs. Mary Collier and Mrs. Dorris Bodden are the advisers.

SCI

THE SCIENCE CLUB

This group is an affiliate of the National Science Clubs of America. The members are chemistry and physics students who are doing exceptional work. One feature of the club is the monthly night meeting. At this meeting we invite some man who has scientific background or knowledge to be our speaker. The group elected these officers: president, Oscar Davis; vice-president, George Cox; secretary, Lila Smith; assistant secretary, Doris Hughes; treasurer, Napoleon Smith; chaplain, Dorothy Tolliver; sergeant-at-arms, Walter Lyles; adviser, Mr. Westbrook.

THE HOMEMAKERS' CLUB

Our aim is to help the students to work out a philosophy of personal, home, and family life, and to understand the ideals controlling successful home and family living. The officers of the club are: president, Monice Williams; secretary, Dorothy Truitt; assistant secretary, Margie Jones; treasurer, Ora Lee Bland. Mrs. Florence Bolden is adviser of the Home Makers Club.
