To The Class of 1956

The faculty, the student body (your own peers), your parents, and the nation at large, yes, even the world, extend to you congratulations on your having successfully completed twelve years of public school education.

Here at Melrose you have been taught to strive for the maximum in all that you do. Outside in the world's arena it is going to be demanded that you, if you are to be successful, you must at all times reach your maximum. Hence, may I say to you at all times put forth your best and the best will come back to you.

Good luck and may success always attend your honest efforts.

Sincerely yours,
F. M. Campbell

HISTORY

As we venture into the world, each in his separate way, we shall endeavor to carry with us the firm foundation which we have received. The eleventh graduating class of Melrose High School leaves her history.

We, the Freshman Class of 1952, were well aware of the hardships and difficulties that we would meet on our four year journey. As we began our high school career, we were afraid, but eager and anxious to grasp, a firm hold in this great institution. Many of us were recognized for our poetic ability when Bettye Knight, Alice McVay, Lillian Harden, Ruby Cohen and Annie B. German had poetry edited in the National Prose Anthology of High Schools.

As we lost the title "Green Freshman" and became "Sophisticated Sophomores" we began to feel that we were a functioning part of Greater Melrose High School. Annie B. German was the first Melrose Student to hold an office in the Tennessee Association of New Homemakers of America. Also Ardalia Scales won "Miss Bronze Tennessee" and later took a trip to Chicago to compete in the finals. Our Sophomore class came to be recognized as promising and mildly outstanding. This gave us the determination to make those concerned with us proud. We worked harder than we had ever worked before because we saw the necessity for better citizens in a fast changing world. Under the splendid guidance of our principal and faculty, Melrose was rapidly progressing, and so were we.

As Juniors, we were hailed for our outstanding ability to make our every endeavor a success. We were proud that we were becoming recognized for our achievements and accomplishments. We soon discovered that among us were those who possessed Leadership, Scholarship, Service and Character. Because of these possessions many of us were inducted into the National Honor Society namely, Marvin Smith, Helen Griffin, Bettye Knight, Joseph Isabel, Jo E. Carter, Mary McGowan, William McKay, Clarence Holmes, Rose M. Ward, Zellner Ivy, Lillian Harden, Janie Mitchell, Annie B. German, and Oreler Dillard. Our Jr. Class officers were Joe T. Wilson, President; Robert Prince, Vice-President; Janie R. Mitchell, Secretary; Sue Fugh, Assistant Secretary; Charles Cox, Treasurer; Andrew Earthman, Sergeant at arms; and Ruthie Sawyer, Financial Secretary. Our advisors were Mr. Conley, Mrs. McKinney, Miss McDowell, Mr. Green and Mr. West.

Along with our previous achievements were those whose musical ability was outstanding. Seniors participating in our great band were William McKay, Lawrence Pernel, Freddie Green, Lillian Harden, Odie Keel, Fredia Manry, Robert Starks, Roy Jackson, Ralph Nelson, Walter Burns and Walter Gaines.

Charles Cox was sent to Knoxville to represent the Hi-Y.

Joseph Isabel representing Melrose and Donald Gandy representing Greeg's College attended Boy's State in Nashville, Tennessee.

To complete our Junior Year, a program was sponsored to honor our principal. It was a "This is your Life" program similar to the Nation Wide program on T.V. To make this program a success Bettye Knight was narrator. It was one of the first of its kind to be held at Melrose.

But, then, the dream came, the beginning of success. We had come through three years of hard but wonderful experiences that were to be the foundations of our futures. We had, finally reached the position of Seniors. Now, more than ever before we held a desire to succeed. Bettye Knight won the second place "I Speak for Democracy" contest. Her recording was presented to the school. This was our last lap around the track, where some of us had spent twelve full glorious years and others joined us along the way. But whatever the case, we were filled with sadness to leave, but with an overwhelming determination to become successful men and women.

As we look back over the years, we realize now that things were not so bad after all. To us, then it was a difficult journey, but the reward was well worth the cost. We achieved for ourselves, honors and glories in various ways. We made history in Prep League Football, when we won the city and state championship for three consecutive years. We are proud to have had seniors a part of this great ball club such as: Herman McClellan, Willie Toles, Robert Weeden, Joseph Lee, Tanner George, Willie Lee and Andrew Earthman, who won fame for himself when he was chosen "Mr. Gridiron Greatest" in 1954. One of the Greatest and most colorful events to happen within our four years was the Coronation Ball. Miss Ardalia Scales (Polly) was crowned queen by student council president, Marvin Smith. She was chosen queen the democratic way. Her two attendants and escorts were Alice McVay and John Gilder; Bettye Knight and Clarence Holmes. The queen court consisted of candidates and their escorts.

Our class will be the First Senior Class to use the new gymnasium. The Gym was dedicated to Melrose on November 21, 1955. Marvin Smith, Student Council President accepted the key. The dedication was made colorful by a square dance featured by members of the Senior Class under the supervision of our Physical Education teacher, Miss J. Thomas.

Our achievements have been many, and behind each one, stand those who without whose help, we could not have thrived, the faculty and principal of Melrose. To them along with our parents we owe our achievements thus far. But we realize that our story is only half told. Measured in success, we have come but a short way. But when the height of our ambitions are reached, the credit, Melrose shall begin here. May we ever make you proud that we were graduates of Greater Melrose High School.

CLASS PROPHECY

It was March 1st in the year of 2000 and I was taking one of my usual pleasure trips around the universe. As I boarded the rocketship "ECLIPSE," I noticed something different. The ship had been made by the S&H corporation with Marvin Smith and John Hope, co-owners. John Gilder had been employed as engineer with his assistants James Holt, Richard Lane, and Eddie Parker. I am welcomed aboard the ship by pilot Joseph Lee and co-pilot Melvin Anderson along with stewardesses Sophia Coger, Helen Douglass, and Alvest Edwards. Approaching my seat, I noticed the famous lawyer, Alice McVay and her two secretaries, Annie Cobb and Verneda Adams. The well-known architect, David Acey, is going to build a Partheon on Jupiter, who's interior will be done by Minnie Storey. The mad scientist, Charles Johnson had just discovered a cure for houseflies. And the universe's most noted psychiatrists of our time, Dr. Janie Mitchell and Dr. Freddie Green were also making the trip.

As we circled the planet Saturn, we saw Lillian Harden, kindergarten teacher, leading her children across orbit 2 on their way to the Milkway. Stopping on Saturn we visited the Informatory for the Needy and were greeted by Annie Bell German, head sociologist. Her assistants were Frances Settles, Nellie Sherell, Zell Buford and William King. At the Saturn Hospital, the largest in the universe, Rose Ward was head surgeon. Willie Sesley and Joseph Isabel were her assistants. Roberta Graves, Shirley Foster, Barbara Isom, and Cornelius Whitfield were registered nurses on the staff. Mary McGowan was head nurse. Nurse Fannie Carpenter was treating Pro Football Players, John Patton and Robert Weeden, for leg fractures. As we visited the main office I saw Delores Pleas, private secretary, taking dictation from the hospital President Willie Toles. Frankie Brownlee and Gwendolyn Bass were in charge of the children's ward.

Because we could not spend all our time on Saturn, Pluto was our next stop. Pluto was noted for it's lavish food and night clubs. To my surprise, Clarence Holmes was chain owner of the swankiest night clubs. Head Managers were Jacob Barnett and Eugene Cox. James McDonald was co-owner. One of his nicest clubs "The LePasto" had been constructed by Frank Lyles and Laverne Dickerson. The interior decorations were done by Erma Pleas and Estella Cursey. As I entered I was amazed to see Mary Jones and Mary Harris, professional singers, who will soon appear in the universe's preview "HOME SWEET HOME." Their dresses had been designed by Beatrice Temple, Barbara Griffin, and Earnestine Jackson. Their hair arrangements were styled by Josephine Griffin and Mildred Taylor. The menu was planned and prepared under the supervision of Carolyn Casey and Osa L. Wallace.

Arriving on Venus, I was aware of the fact that the Big Nine Meeting was taking place in the Interplanetarium Forum. I was informed that the architectural structure was supervised by Robert Prince and I noticed too, that it was engineered by Marcellus Moore and his capable assistants, Herman Owens, and Alfred Gross. The purpose of the Big Nine Meeting was to exterminate the newest device, the Beetle Bomb. It had been brought into existence by Annie Bell Crawford. The chairman of the meeting was Lawrence Pernel, formally a lawyer. Representing the Planet Earth were Eugene Ervin, Ruben Grant and Herman McClellan. Some other political leaders were U. T. Muse, Edward Wirt, and John Humphrey, representatives from Pluto. Nathaniel Matthews and Donald Gandy, representatives from Mars, were debating on the issue, "What is the power of the Beetle Bomb." Before leaving Venus, we visited the Capital Music Hall where some of the most famous musicians of the universe were featured with Fredia Manry and Gay L. Goens, as vocalists, who received their superb training from the master of music, Fred Bernard and his accompanist, the famed pianist, Duquince Parks. The Imperian Orchestra, under the leadership of William McKay, included Odie Keel, Maggie Jones, Walter Gaines, Roy Jackson, Walter Burnes and Robert Starks.

Jupiter was our next destination. I observed closely that it was called the "Educated Planet" because of its great educational facilities. I was taken to Helen Griffin, dean of the universe's most noted all girl's college, who showed me around. As I left her office, I was introduced to her secretaries, Rosie M. Riley and Mary Rhodes. Head of the high school department was Marilyn Lindsey with assistants Otis Love, Eugene Matthews and Arlene Patton. Physical Education instructors were James Polk, Charles Richmond, and Vivian Rowlett. Ruth Jones and Jeannie Taylor taught in the primary divisions.

When she showed me Melrose University, which had gotten so large it had to be moved to Jupiter, I was completely astonished. Tanner George was dean, Sylvia Johnson and Jo Evelyn Carter were his secretaries, Ellie Ree Mayes, Oreler Dillard, and Freddie Carter were English teachers, Henry Bradley and Dora Dean taught social studies. Earnestine Walker and Stella Wright were physical education teachers. Eugene Yarbrough and Richard Lane were shop instructors.

As I waved Jupiter good-bye and landed on Uranus, I was welcomed by Ardalia Scales and Katherine Elmore, professional models, who were employed by fashion designer, Zellner Ivy. Ruthie Sawyer, Mattie Taylor and Edwina Tolliver were also professional models. Frank Tatum, traffic policeman, assisted us across the street where all the professional football national league was convening. I was very surprised when I spotted Andrew Earthman, Willie Lee and William Harden in the group. They were playing their last game of the season and if they won, they would be universal champions.

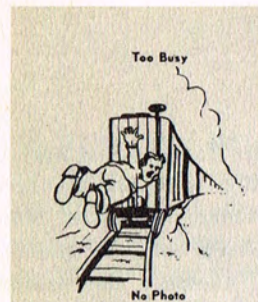

Reaching Mars, the universe's capital, I met Barbara Harris, social worker. She was looking for Lena Ewell, R.N. to replace Ruby Cohen because she had been ordered to go to Earth. Although she had found Nurses Letherine Hill and Lillie Coleman, she still needed Lena. It would have been completely out of the question to the other nurses on the staff. Bobbie Marshall, Jackie Thompson, Cozette Kent and Earnestine Rucker were in the operating room. Eva Qualls, Earnestine Isom and Margaret Flynn were off duty and to my disappointment, I didn't get a chance to see them. Ida Mae Harris was hurrying to the dark room to develop X-Rays of Charles Cox, wealthy owner of Cox Industries. Barbara Mitchell, laboratory technician, was just returning from her lunch hour.

Knowing that I was pressed for time, I had to make a quick trip to the planet Neptune. As I stepped off the rocketship, I noticed a newspaper lying on the street. It was edited by Journalist Bettye Knight with Lois Brooks, the assistant editor. I read an article written by Lula M. Cox which read as follows: The politician Charles Butler and his secretaries Elizabeth Watkins and Barbara Boggan are leaving Wednesday to attend the Big Nine Conference. Another item stated that John Smith and William Stewart, owners of the Ford Company were donating a large sum of money to Charity. The Charitable Organization was ——— the words dimmed and I could not see the remaining part of the sentence. I was clearly awoke now and was looking into the face of the stewardess, who told me that I was in Washington D.C. Imagine my dismay when I realized I had only dreamed of the future for the class of 1956. Aware of the fact that it was merely a dream, I hope and believe someday that portions of my dream will be a reality.
